

Research Ethics Workshop:
Research Ethics Courses

UC San Diego
Date: Wednesday, April 15, 2015
8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the UC San Diego Research Ethics Program and the San Diego Research Ethics Consortium (SDREC)

What is the purpose of the workshop?

The workshop is designed to result in concrete, discipline-specific strategies and plans to create courses on the subject of research ethics. Doing so can also help to meet NSF and NIH requirement for teaching of responsible conduct of research.

Who is the workshop for?

Faculty from UCSD and other San Diego Research Ethics Consortium (SDREC) institutions are invited to participate. There is no charge to UCSD faculty, but advance registration is required. The workshop is designed appropriate to be appropriate for diverse disciplines spanning the natural sciences, physical sciences, engineering, social sciences, and humanities.

On successful completion of the workshop participants will be able to:

- List and describe rationales and goals for research ethics instruction.
- List and describe topics for research ethics instruction.
- Identify methods, approaches, tools, and resources for teaching of research ethics courses.

Presented by:

Michael Kalichman, Ph.D.

Director, UC San Diego Research Ethics Program (<http://ethics.ucsd.edu>)

Project Director, Resources for Research Ethics Education (<http://research-ethics.net>)

Registration Deadline and Attendance:

Please register no later than two weeks before the program. Workshop attendance is limited to 15 faculty.

To register or for more information:

ethics@ucsd.edu

858-822-2027